In Conduct relating to a dominant market share

Euramax Solutions Limited may be found to be in a dominant market position if we possess market power, and can, to an appreciable extent, behave independently of competitors, customers, and consumers. These conditions can occur where our business has a 40% or greater share of a particular market, including of supplies, or the purchase of goods or services on a particular market.

The following rules apply to conduct where Euramax Solutions Limited has a dominant market share.

You must:

- Recognise the risks of anti-competitive behaviour which can arise from such situations

- Recognise that certain practices which are generally legal may become illegal where the company has a dominant market share
- Act cautiously when charging different customers different prices unless this is justifiable, for instance on the basis of supply costs or price negotiations
- Act cautiously about pricing products in such a way that would incentivise a customer to source all their requirements from the company. Volume discounts by a dominant business should reflect genuine customer cost savings which result from supplying a product in a larger volume
- Act cautiously before linking the sale of one product to other products or services
- Ensure price cuts targeted to compete with a competitors' services are not loss making
- Avoid all reference to "dominant", "dominance", "market power"

You must not:

- Introduce price cuts to eliminate rivals
- Adopt a business practice aimed at weakening or eliminating an existing competitor or to prevent a would-be competitor's entry into the market
- Use language which may create the suspicion of abusing market power or nefarious intentions, such as:
 - "let's kick them out the market"
 - "raising barriers for entry and make sure no new competitors can come in"
 - "we can never let them be successful"
 - "this will need a stay-out pricing policy"
 - "we must attack the competitor"

Procedure for raising concerns under this policy

If you are concerned about any form of malpractice covered by this policy, you should normally first raise the issue with your immediate line manager. If, for whatever reason, you feel you cannot tell your immediate line manager, you should raise the issue with the Financial Director.

Concerns can be raised orally or in writing. When raising the concern, you may choose to either include your identity or remain anonymous. You may wish to discuss your concern with a colleague before you formally raise it under this policy. However, remember that once you have raised your concern (alone or with your colleague), in the interests of everyone involved, this is a confidential process.
